

Fabienne Casoli

Dr Fabienne Casoli is President of the Paris Observatory. She graduated from the École Normale Supérieure and is Doctor in astrophysics and an astronomer by profession, Fabienne Casoli became President of the Paris Observatory, having acquired solid experience in the world of administrating research within major French decision-making bodies related to astronomy and astrophysics.

From 2001 to 2007 she was successively Deputy Scientific Director of the Institut National des Sciences de l'Univers at the CNRS, then director of the Institut d'Astrophysique Spatiale in Orsay. In 2007, she joined the Centre national d'études spatiales, CNES where she was Deputy Director of the Innovation, Applications and Science Division and Head of the Scientific Division.